

Open Source Intelligence (OSINT)

Vision Statement

A company with drive and passion for delivering unique, intelligent training solutions and providing outstanding customer care. A partner that is trusted and innovative. Expanding our business ethos across the globe.

Who Are RISC Consultants?

RISC Consultants was founded in 2005 by former British Special Forces personnel. We develop bespoke intelligent solutions for sector specific security infrastructures.

As a global solutions training provider in the security sector, the quality of our work is determined by the quality of our people.

RISC Consultants offer a variety of training solutions, from traditional classroom teaching, to e-Learning, e-Coaching, Train The Trainer and Webinar Workshops.

Who is this course aimed at?

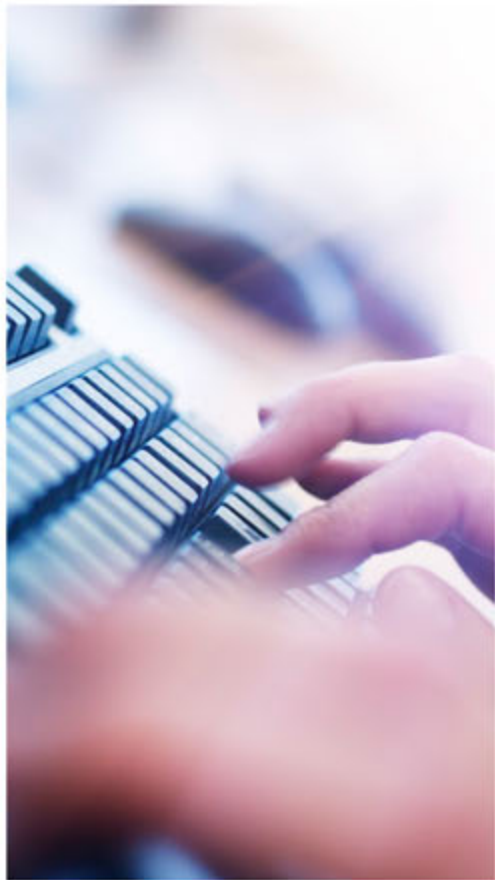

This three-day open source intelligence course is open to members of the public, investigators and enforcement officers who need to gather intelligence and information via the Internet.

This open source Internet training will give the investigator the knowledge to research individuals, companies, organisations and Internet traffic.

This specialist training is aimed at:

- Commercial & Private Investigators
- Researchers
- Corporate Security & Intelligence Teams
- Investigative Journalists
- Enforcement Officers
- Close Protection Officers
- Due Diligence Investigators
- Professional Witnesses
- Debt Collectors

Course Content

Over the two days you will cover the core aspects of OSINT using practical 'hands on' techniques to improve the learning experience and ensure you get the most from the training.

The subjects covered include:

- Understanding the Internet
- Understanding email traffic
- Obtaining the identity of email sender & recipients
- Effective use of search engines
- Searching social networking sites, forums and blogs
- Open sources of information and intelligence
- Research of telephone numbers, addresses and individuals
- Research of company and business information
- Identity of website ownership
- Setting up covert websites and email addresses
- Monitoring of websites and keywords of special interest
- Continuity of electronic evidence

Why should you take this course?

This training is designed for individuals or organizations who would like to learn and understand cutting edge open source intelligence techniques in a classroom environment.

The three-day programme is delivered by our highly qualified training staff all of which have past experience in the Intelligence sector.

Rutherford Training Consultants
Boundry House
Boston Road
London
W7 2QE
Telephone: 0044 208 434 3443

The Company We Keep

